- Scout Skills/Merit Badge teaching
- Planning and preparation for upcoming outings
- Game
- Leadership, Character and Skills Development

Monthly Trips

Monthly trips are a cornerstone of the Scouting experience. They are planned and scheduled in advance by the PLC with help from adult leadership. Details of the trips will be posted on the troop website www.troopawesome.com and Scoutbook. Scouts must RSVP to each trip via Scoutbook generally 2 weeks prior to an event. Monthly trips run from September through June. Examples of past trips include: caving – Laurel Caverns (PA), biking – C&O Canal (MD), camping – Lum’s Pond (DE), whitewater rafting (WV) .

Operated on a pay-as-you-participate basis. Scouts pay for each camping trip as they sign up. Fee covers food and campsites and every effort is made to keep costs low. A few points on outings:

- Scouts cook in patrols, with adult supervision for proper sanitation during cooking and clean up. Adults who attend/volunteer during trips split the responsibility for their meals.
- Scouts share tents, not more than two-year age difference.

- Groups carpool from the American Legion for all trips. Scouts help with Troop gear heading into trip and upon return and take turns bringing gear and patrol boxes home to clean and organize.

Inclement Weather Policy

Troop 729 generally follows BCPS for inclement weather closures but reserves the right to hold a meeting if schools are closed. In such a case the meeting status will be posted via all communication channels and attendance will be optional. Monthly trips are generally not impacted by weather and will only be cancelled in extreme circumstances.

Scout Ranks

Scouts earn their way individually through ranks as they level up: Scout, Tenderfoot, Second Class, First Class, Star, Life and Eagle. Rank advancement is one beneficial aspect of Scouting and can be highly motivating for some, but it is not a requirement to participate. Rank work is individual to each Scout and therefore each Scout works independently through their requirements. Any Scout who attends most meetings and campouts, as well as Summer Camp, should have no difficulty in meeting rank requirements.

Scouts typically advance one rank each school year, sometimes two. Earlier levels focus upon basic Scout skills and safety, while higher ranks emphasize service work and leadership roles and the completion of merit badges. Troop 729 follows the Scouting America, 'Guide to Advancement' for all requirements from Scout to Eagle and believes the below points are crucial for success of a Scout and the Troop:

- A Scout will complete the items required for each level and have their work signed off. Any Scout of First Class rank or higher may sign requirements.
- Patrol Leaders should be checking their Scout's books every month.
- Ranks (except for Scout) are officially earned upon the successful completion of the Board of Review (BOR) and awarded at a Court of Honor.
- Scouts entering Life Rank are invited to attend a Life-to-Eagle training to learn more about the special process of earning Eagle Rank.
- Rank Advancement information can be found on Scoutbook online and in the paperback Scout book, which should be brought to all meetings and campouts.

Advancing

To streamline and prevent missed rank advancements the following has been instituted.

- The Scout Master (SM) must record all SM conferences in Scoutbook as soon as it is completed or request the committee to enter. SM will then alert the committee to schedule Board of Reviews (BORs). The committee will record successful completion at the end of that review.
- SM Conferences and BORs will be requested and scheduled at least 2 weeks ahead of time once all requirements for that rank are met. 2 of each SM Conferences and Committee BORs are allotted per meeting.
- All conferences and BORs to be scheduled during game time 7-7:30.
- All conferences must be run by the SMs or delegated ASMs.
- Exceptions can be made to allow conferences outside of scheduling meeting times with advanced requests and approval by the Scoutmaster and committee.
- All board of reviews must be completed by a minimum of 3 adults. A majority must be committee members. Families not of the scout being reviewed are welcome to serve on the board for all ranks except eagle which must be filled with committee members.

Merit Badges

Only the scoutmaster can approve the start of a merit badge. The troop manages MBs in scoutbook but does accept blue cards. The troop will attempt to coordinate badges but scouts can and are encouraged to find unique opportunities for all MBs as long as the SM is coordinated with prior. Approved/started badges will be recorded in SB.

Courts Of Honor

Court of Honor Awards ceremonies are held two times per year (Spring and Fall – typically mid to late November and May or early June). Parents/families are invited to all Courts of Honor and if their Scout is advancing ranks, they'll be asked to step forward during the ceremony.

Participation Policies

Troop 729 has implemented the below policies for the successful continuity of the Troop and program.

Scout Participation and Commitment

- Scouts are encouraged to attend all weekly meetings and monthly outings.
- Scouts may leave and come back into the troop without penalty (e.g. seasonal sports.)
- Troops 729 defines an "active member of the Troop" as a Scout who attends 50% or more of meetings and campouts.
- Scout leadership positions as defined above are required to meet the minimum expectations of those positions and attend 75% or more of meetings and campouts to fulfill their leadership requirements. Excused absences must be cleared by Scout Master or ASM prior to Patrol Meeting.
- Scouts are expected to be in attendance at PLC meetings if elected for a leadership role. Excused absences must be cleared by Scout Master or ASM prior to Patrol Meeting.
- Senior Patrol Leaders are expected to communicate any absence with the Scoutmaster and other patrol members prior to all events.
- Appropriate behavior is required at all meetings and outings. Being kind, courteous and respectful ect... as dictated by the scout oath and law will be monitored by all Adults and senior leaders. In instances where Scout Spirit is impacted a scout may be asked to demonstrate/correct compliance with the Scout Oath and Scout Law prescribed by the rank advancement requirements (which could delay rank advancement) as directed/determined by the Scoutmaster.

Adult Participation and Commitment

- Volunteering is optional for parents, but the troop is always in need of volunteers. (See below for explanation of the troop's Parent Involvement Fee which is offset by meeting volunteer benchmarks.)
- All adult volunteers require 'Youth Protection Training' and must comply with BSA policies.
- All adults wanting to camp MUST be registered as a leader with the troop. The most cost efficient manner to be compliant for parents is to register as a Scout Reserve unit code 91.
- Adults will be reimbursed for registration and training fees with receipts. Receipts are to be emailed to the treasurer for reimbursement.
- Adults seeking an advanced leadership role within the troop simply need to coordinate with the Scout Master or Committee members. They will be guided through the process. Adults will be reimbursed for registration and training fees with receipts. Receipts are to be emailed to the treasurer for reimbursement.
 - Camping trips are generally closed to extended family members unless they are officially designated as 'family trips. BSA requires all adults spending the night be registered. See notes above.
- To encourage adult participation, adults are not generally charged fees for monthly adventures. A fee may be charged at the treasurer's discretion if the number of adults exceeds 20% of total trip attendance or when event fees are greater than $75 per person.

Committee

- All parents are welcome to attend scheduled committee meetings
- Only approved committee members may vote on topics (reference Roberts Rules of Order.)
- 50% of documented committee members are required to make changes to voting members and/or Troop handbook.

- Class A uniforms also require green bottoms.

- 'Class B' shirts may be worn to scout meetings outside of the timeframe above or when communicated as an exception. If compliance to these standards falls below 75%, it will be addressed by the Scoutmaster.

- First aid kit
- Flashlight
- Rain gear

Troop Provided Gear

Electronics Policy

If a Scout has an electronic device (smart phone, air pods, headphones, iPad, etc.) at a meeting, outing or campout, it is expected that the device remains stored away, so as not to detract from the Scouting experience. Phones are sometimes useful tools for Scout-related business. However, we want to maintain the spirit of Scouting which is based on outdoor experiences and camaraderie, not technology. At all outings, electronics should not be used/out at all unless requested to and approved by the Scoutmaster and/or Assistant Scoutmaster. Scouts may travel with a device if it is provided to the Scoutmaster or Assist Scoutmaster once they arrive at the destination. If a device is seen or heard at an event the Scoutmasters or Assistant Scoutmasters will hold the device for the duration of the event. Parents can request Scoutmaster and Assistant Scoutmasters hold devices ahead of time to be available for the scouts in Emergencies. Held devices will be stored in a secure central location. If you choose to bring your device, the troop is not financially liable for it when collected. Every attempt will be made to keep it secured.

Buddy System

Scouts must travel with a buddy at all times, including meetings, events, campouts and summer camp. This includes all activities such as trips to the bathroom, open swim, visiting the trading post at camp, etc.

Scouts must always tell someone where they are going. They must choose a youth leader (Senior Patrol, Leader, Patrol Leader or any more experienced Scout) and tell them where they are going, what they will be doing and which buddy they are taking.

Safety Drills or Alarms

If a drill or alarm sounds, Scouts must stop what they are doing, grab their buddy and report to the nearest youth leader, camp counselor or adult volunteer. If applicable, they must share their first and last name and Troop information with that leader. If no leader is present and a Scout hears the weather siren, they must seek cover in the closest building and report to any leader they find there.

See Something, Say Something

If a Scout sees or hears anything suspicious, they should report their concerns to a Scoutmaster or adult volunteer.

Counseling

Scouts in Troops 729 commit themselves to following the Scout Oath and Law: being obedient by listening and following directions, being cheerful by working as a respectful member of the team, being brave by being willing to try new experiences, new food and new challenges. A Scout's behavior may be corrected or redirected at any time by the troop's youth leaders, one of the Scoutmasters or an adult volunteer. Any Scouts who fail to follow the Code of Conduct, causing a situation that's unsafe for themselves or others will be asked to leave the program immediately, and their parents or guardian will be responsible for transporting them home.

Medical Forms and Photo Release

- All Scouts need to complete BSA Medical Forms annually.
- Parts A and B must be completed for all Scouts and adults who attend any outings, camping or day trips (Part C not required.)
- Part C (doctor-completed) will be required along with Parts A and B if you camp more than 72 hours (summer camp, high adventure.)
- Photo release will be collected annually with the medical forms.

Safeguarding Youth Training (SYT)

- SYT or Scouting approved equivalent is required for all registered adults participating in events or trips.
- SYT will be validated by the Committee prior to all events/trips.
- SYT Will need to be renewed every 12 months.
- SYT is available at <http://my.scouting.org/>

Fundraising

The troops main fundraising efforts are detailed below.

Mulch Sale (March/April)

Scouts and families solicit orders of bagged mulch from a designated area in Towson and on delivery day, volunteers move one to two semi-truckloads of mulch into smaller trucks and deliver. This even funds the majority of the Troops programs. Participation is required for all Scouts.

Fees

Neckerchief

- All new scouts are provided with a troop neckerchief upon receipt of a $25.00 deposit.
- Scouts must return the neckerchief prior to receiving one for subsequent ranks (4 styles: Scout through Second Class, First Class, Star, Life).
- If a neckerchief is lost, the deposit is forfeited, and another deposit is collected before issuing a new one.
- Upon discontinuation of troop membership or attainment of Eagle, the most recent deposit is refunded after return of the neckerchief.

The Treasurer reviews each request on a case by case basis and can approve requests for hardship directly. Family challenges to this decision can be directed to the committee chair. Troop Communications

TroopAwesome.com www.troopawesome.com

Troopawesome hosts the latest troop information including this handbook. Details on monthly events with signup links to Scoutbook will be provided.

GroupMe https://groupme.com/join_group/110424214/t7L0sqEQ

Groupme was created to eliminate text chats between leaders and parents. This app/website provides a general Troop 729 for any Troop related questions and has sub groups for every trip. Leader guides, attendance and communications for all adults attending monthly trips will be provided here.

Scoutbook <http://advancements.scouting.org>

Scoutbook is used for the official event calendar and the Troop RSVP system. It is the official email communication tool for scouting. Also leveraged for rank and awards tracking

- Log-In/Password required and established when national dues are paid.
- Contact committee@troopsawesome.com for assistance with access.
- At least one parent/guardian of each Scout should be registered in Scoutbook and accessing their account regularly. Highly recommended for all Scouts to be provided their own account from their parents once they are Second Class or above.
- It is critical that scouts and parents RSVP YES OR NO to events in Scoutbook. RSVP's should be done 30 days ahead for each event whenever possible. If a Scout has RSVP'd yes but does not attend an outing after either food or tickets are purchased, the Scout will be responsible for the fees associated with that outing.
- Specific RSVP deadlines may be established by event; in those cases, a Scout will not be able to attend if deadlines are not met.
- Scout leadership positions and merit badge requirements are tracked here as well.

Facebook <https://www.facebook.com/share/g/1Ag2iPRGZn/>

Facebook is used to share photos of the Troops outings and is a great way to keep tabs on your Scout (assuming your photo pass is valid). It is not used for any official purposes but families will often post fun Scouting related activities there.

My Scouting <http://my.scouting.org>

My.Scouting is your registration portal and is required for renewals. You will create an account when you initially register with nationals and join the troop. This site note only sends your renewals but is the tracking system for all adult training including SYT.

Baltimore Scouting <https://baltimorescouting.org/>

Baltimore scouting hosts general district information and training opportunities. It hosts details on specific processes such as Eagle Applications and Time Extensions. The Gunpowder Falls District which we are a part of also posts information here.

New Scout Tips

New Scouts should meet with their Scoutmaster at a meeting or event to talk through rank requirements and make a plan to reach their first rank (Scout).

Prior to starting a merit badge, the Scout must ask the Scoutmaster for permission to start the merit badge and the Scoutmaster will assign a merit badge counselor.

Scouts should also 'start a blue card' (old, pre-internet terminology for opening a merit badge with a Merit Badge Counselor) for the Camping Merit badge. This merit badge requires 20 nights of camping, but the merit badge must be opened before the camping nights count toward the tally.

Scouts should also talk with the Scoutmaster, Assistant Scoutmaster or Advancement Coordinator about Eagle rank merit badges that might require activities that Scouts are doing in their daily lives (ie – a visit to an ethnic festival counts toward a requirement in the Citizenship in the World merit badge, but unless the merit badge is opened, such a visit would not be counted toward completion.)

Our most successful Scouts often have a high level of family involvement. Please join us whenever possible.
